ACADEMIC PATHWAYS

An Initiative for Academic Diversity

Academic Pathways Fellowships combine enhanced professional and leadership development training and robust mentoring for postdocs with the goal of preparing them to be highly competitive candidates for academic careers. Sponsored by Vanderbilt's Office of the Provost with additional funding from the Alliances for Graduate Education and the Professoriate of the National Science Foundation, Academic Pathways seeks to address the acute need for greater diversity within the professoriate. Academic Pathways Fellowships are open to all programs of study within the College of Arts and Science, Owen Graduate School of Management, Peabody College of Education and Human Development, School of Engineering, Law School, and School of Medicine. Academic Pathways is administered by the Office of Postdoctoral Affairs, Vanderbilt University Graduate School.
